

About the Show

Mad Jenny's Love Und Greed features songs from life in Berlin from the 1920s and 1930s by Mischa Spoliansky, Brecht/Weill, Brecht/Eissler, Claire Waldoff and more. They are about love, money, sex, gender and surviving all of this in the city, in a time of great uncertainty and danger. It may well be our time too.

Pull Quotes for Love Und Greed and Mad Jenny

"Mesmerizing..."

– Time Out

"The glamorous Ms. Mitchell, who studied classical voice in Vienna and Munich, transports us to Germany in the 1930s. Yet the piece speaks to our own unstable economic times where cut-throat greed, the love of money, overshadows the love of humanity."

– Broadway After Dark

"Love Und Greed," an interwar Germany-style cabaret act, features songs such as "Life's a Swindle" and "Here's to the A List" performed by the talented Jenny Lee Mitchell as she transforms through a clever repertoire of costumes and bilingual vocals, is a solid musical act."
